COLORADO SPRINGS GAZETTE.

NUMBER 1726. COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO., SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1889. PRICE FIVE CENTS.

A BIG ENTERPRISE.

Action Taken by the Cattlemen's Meeting in Kansas City.

A Gigantic Stock Commission Company to be Formed.

Opposition to Packing House and Commission Combines.

Officers of the Corporation to be Elected in March.

Stock Raisers' Meeting.

KANSAS CITY, February 22.—Representatives of the stock raising industry from nearly every state and territory west of the Missouri river, and from Illinois and Kentucky, practically completed a work of vital importance to cattlemen to-day. For a long time cattlemen have thought they were being heavily through the combines of commission and large packing houses which resulted in the sale of their cattle at ridiculously low prices. The scheme of forming an immense commission company, composed of the stock raisers themselves had been broached and about a month ago a meeting was held for the purpose of taking the opening steps preparatory to carrying out the scheme. To-day the work was practically finished and the meeting adjourned until March 4, when the election of the officers of the commission company will take place. It was decided to incorporate a company to be known as the American Live Stock Commission company, with a capital stock of $150,000, and headquarters at Kansas City and Chicago. The incorporators will be Samuel Lazarus of Texas, A. B. Gregory of Illinois and Nicholas T. Eaton and Thos. B. Bugy of Kansas City. The articles of incorporation will be filed at Springfield, Illinois March 2nd.

The idea of the promoters of the movement is to enable them to sell their stock at the highest price and with the least expense possible, and with that end in view headquarters will be established at Kansas City and Chicago with branches at Wichita, Kas., Ft. Worth, Texas, and possibly at Omaha, where stock will be received and sold on the "commission" plan. The new company will not confine its business to its members but will receive stock from those not members and will do a general stock commission business on a large scale. One of the most important features of the movement is the possible effect it may have on the cattle business of Kansas City and Chicago. It has been the general supposition among ranchmen that a very tight and powerful combine has existed in this city between the commission men and the packing houses.

The members of the new organization say hereafter that if there is any discrimination on the part of the packing houses here to discriminate against them after they begin business they will not ship head stock to Kansas City but will send all their cattle to Chicago. It is for this reason that the company will be incorporated in Illinois. Some idea of the magnitude of the movement may be had from the fact that the members of the organization now have 163,000 head of stock ready to bring to market. It is thought that as soon as the movement becomes generally understood nearly every cattle raiser in the west will join this company and will make it a gigantic combination which will enable the stock raiser to practically do his own selling.

Four New States.

WASHINGTON, February 22.—The president has approved the bill to admit as states of the union Washington, Montana, North Dakota and South Dakota.

Michigan Club Banquet.

DETROIT, February 22.—Eleven hundred guests sat down to an elaborate spread at the Detroit rink to-night, the occasion being the fourth annual banquet of the Michigan club. Senator Palmer was president of the feast and Governor Luce delivered the address of welcome. The first speaker was Hon. Warner Miller of New York, who spoke to the toast, "The Future of the Republican Party." Ex-Governor A. G. Porter of Indiana responded to "The Ballot;" Hon. William Cogswell of Massachusetts to "The Duty and Lesson of the Republican Party." Hon. Jacob H. Ballinger of New Hampshire, to "Protection." General Chas. H. Grosvenor, of Ohio, to "The Election of 1888." Colonel Aaron Carr, of Illinois, to "The Day we Celebrate." Letters of regret were received from President-elect Harrison, Vice President-elect Morton, Chauncey M. Depew, General Sherman and Senators Frye, Spooner, Sherman, Ingalls, Frye, Evarts, Teller, Manderson, Plumb, Stewart, Farwell, Davis and many other prominent gentlemen.

Interference With An Election.

LITTLE ROCK, February 22.—Bob Watkins was arrested at Pine Bluff, Arkansas to-day upon the charge of interfering with the election officers at Plumerville in Conway county at the November election. This is the precinct from which the ballot box was stolen by masked men, the act leading to the assassination of John M. Clayton. No arrests have yet been made of parties directly implicated in the assassination of Colonel Clayton but is is believed that the prosecutions to be conducted by the federal court, of the men implicated in the interference with the election officers will result in bringing out all the facts of the assassination.

Vicksburg Veterans.

INDIANAPOLIS, February 22.—This afternoon General Harrison received fifty veterans of the Vicksburg campaign, [illegible] a convention in this [illegible] of organizing a new [illegible] to be known as the "So[illegible] of Vicksburg." They were re[illegible] speech making be[illegible]. Later in the afternoon [illegible] attending the ao[illegible] order of Counc[illegible] received by the general [illegible] two visitors from Texas, [illegible] W. Burnfort and R. H. Lay [illegible] came to talk [illegible] federal patronage in Texas.

Sensational Testimony.

LONDON, February 22.—Pigott to-day [illegible] statements to Archbishop Walsh were unfounded. Pigott also [illegible] that there was very little truth in [illegible] to Walsh. He was in very depressed circumstances when he wrote the letters. He had stated to [illegible] that the genuineness of the Parnell letters [illegible]. [illegible] he said he would swear that he [illegible] that the Parnell letters were forgeries. He [illegible] he would swear [illegible] that the Parnell [illegible] knew the handwriting in the body of them. He [illegible] Archbishop Walsh that the Parnell letters were genuine but he would not swear he had.

A Warrant for Dudley.

INDIANAPOLIS, February 22.—A warrant is out for the arrest of Colonel W. W. Dudley, of the republican national committee. United States Commissioner Van Buren issued the document, the basis of his action being an affidavit charging Colonel Dudley with being [illegible]. This manner of proceeding is extraordinary but not unprecedented, and is about the only resort in a case where there is no action taken in the matter of an indictment. It is said that Judge Solomon Claypool, acting United States district attorney will start for Washington to-morrow to serve the warrant.

Indianapolis Gossip.

INDIANAPOLIS, February 22.—Nothing reliable can be learned as to the cabinet, though there have been many rumors of changes that are to take place in the slate. It is generally believed that the navy and agricultural departments are still unfilled, and that Senator Palmer of Michigan is likely to take the latter. The war portfolio, it is thought, will go to the east, but no name has been fixed upon. However, it is said that Warner Miller could have it if he so desired. This is based as much on General Harrison's known friendship for Miller as on anything else. The California situation is still one of uncertainty. The pressure on General Harrison from the Pacific slope, it is thought, has weakened the chances of W. H. H. Miller, of this state, as it is thought the department of justice is the one, if any, that will be given to the slope. Nothing can be learned definitely as to the war department, but the best opinion is that it will go to Rusk. There appears to no longer be any room for doubt that Wanamaker will be the next postmaster general. Gossip is now confined entirely to the discussion of the chances of the Pacific states. There seems to be a well defined impression among politicians here that taking into consideration what transpired at Chicago the slope cannot well be left out if an acceptable man can be found and this has strengthened the belief here that Estee will be named for [illegible] ceased to be talked about.

Stanford's A[illegible].

WASHINGTON, February 22.—Senator Stanford to-day introduced a proposed amendment to the army appropriation bill authorizing the secretary of war to purchase four pneumatic dynamite guns of 15-inch calibre, and the necessary machinery to fire and handle the same, together with the necessary ammunition and cartridges to be located at such points in the harbor of San Francisco as may be designated by the secretary, the cost not to exceed $250,000. In a letter Secretary Endicott approved of the location of these guns in the harbor of San Francisco and says that there is at present no appropriation available for the purpose.

Springer Notified.

WASHINGTON, February 22.—There was great satisfaction expressed on both sides of the house to-day when it became generally known that the president had signed the territorial bill. Shortly after the house met, a special messenger from the White house brought the following autograph letter to the chairman of the committee on territories.

Hon. William M. Springer:

MY DEAR SIR:—"I signed the bill for the admission of the new states at 11 o'clock this morning.

CITY COUNCIL.

Proceedings of the Adjourned Meeting Last Night.

Matters in Relation to the New Water Main in Discussion.

Contract Again Let for Delivering the Pipe.

The City Will Do Its Own Work in Laying the Pipe.

The adjourned meeting of the city council met last night with the mayor and all of the councilmen present, excepting Alderman Callaway.

The clerk read a communication from Mr. C. A. Lansing, requesting that he be informed officially what action the body proposed to take in the matter of the land leased for hospital purposes. Two motions were made in regard to the communication, but neither of them receiving a second the council proceeded to the consideration of other business.

Alderman Himebaugh moved that the council proceed to receive bids for the hauling of the new water pipe, as the party who had been awarded the contract had failed to agree to its terms. The motion prevailed.

Alderman Himebaugh stated that it was learned that if the pipe which is to be used there is unloaded at Manitou the teams from this city will each have to pay a license of $25, but that if the pipe is unloaded outside it can be taken there. It is thought there will be no objection to the city unloading its pipe there with its own teams and workmen. He moved that when the contract be let for the delivery of the pipe that it be for all pipe excepting that to be used on the two miles this side of the settler, the successful bidder to give bonds of $2000 to pay for the fulfilment of the contract.

While the transfer men of the city were preparing their bids the city engineer made his report on the survey for the new water main. He said that the [illegible] in the afternoon and therefore it was impossible to have the profile prepared. The distance from the city hall to the new settler is 31,650 feet. It was estimated that when completed the city would have a pressure of forty additional pounds. The present pressure at the city hall is about eighty pounds. He advised laying 16 inch main all the way to and through Manitou, as a 12 inch main running two-thirds full would be sufficient after that, on account of the grade to keep the 16 inch main full.

The clerk announced that all bids were in and proceeded to read them as follows: Roberts & Ellington offered to deliver the pipe from Chestnut street to two miles east of the settler for $1.25 per ton. William Lennox offered to deliver the pipe from the city to two miles east of the settler for $1.15 per ton. Belcher & Bowler offered to deliver the pipe from Chestnut street to the railroad crossing east of Dr. Bell's house for $1.33 per ton.

On motion the contract was awarded to William Lennox and the mayor and city clerk were instructed to enter into a contract with him.

Alderman Lawton presented the following resolution:

Resolved, That the work to be done in laying the new 16 inch water main from Colorado Springs to the settler above Manitou be done by the city and under the direction of the committee on water works, the superintendent of water works, and the city engineer, and that the work be begun as soon as the water committee deems advisable.

The resolution occasioned considerable discussion. Alderman Stubbs arguing that there should not be too much haste in the matter. If it could be done cheaper by contract, so much the better. Alderman Skinner thought the excavating could probably be done cheaper by contract. Alderman Lawton explained his reasons for presenting this resolution, in that experience had always shown that the city could do its own work the cheapest. There were plenty of workmen in the city with teams who would be glad to get work on the new water works, and if it was let to contractors they would probably get left. A vote on the resolution resulted in six for and one against.

Upon motion the city clerk was directed to receive bids for lead for laying the pipe.

Alderman Skinner made a statement in regard to the right of way across the land of C. E. Liebold of Manitou. Mr. Liebold will give the city the right of way if he is allowed to tap the main to supply two lots. The matter was referred to the right of way committee with power to act.

It was stated that if the council intends to use any pipe of less than sixteen inches they are, according to the contract, to notify the manufacturers by the first of March. As the next meeting of the council will be held on the fourth of March, the matter was referred to the water works committee with power to act.

The council then adjourned.

Last Night's C[illegible].

The concert of the Mendelssohn Quintette club was by far the finest with which our city has been favored this season and since no musical organization has been more widely and favorably known than this society, it argues an inexplicable and surprising indifference on the part of a community inclined to boast of a high degree of culture and artistic appreciation that so many seats in the opera house should have been vacant last evening.

The programme was a very excellent one, and proved that the club has never lowered its standard, and still holds to [illegible] its high [illegible].

The [illegible] by Mayseder [illegible] perfectly, and was a [illegible]. [illegible] by Mr. [illegible] was so [illegible] the [illegible]. The [illegible] from [illegible] concerts in C. [illegible] ended the concert. That the solos were finely rendered goes almost without saying but skill taste and enthusiasm for the great art of music could be better shown than in the [illegible] playing of artists of whom each strives to do his part, subordinate though it seem in the [illegible] perfect manner. It is the secret of success, and the only method by which it can be achieved.

To mention the solos separately would be only to praise each artist unreservedly. We venture to say that no finer or more sympathetic tone could be produced than Mr. Hekking drew from his violoncello, and that there are few if any violinists in this country who play with such refined sentiment and delicacy of touch as Mr. Ohlyger. The latter illustrated also a charming talent for composition in the "Serenade," with which he consented to an encore, after rendering Leonard's Fantaisie "Souvenir de Bade."

Tim[illegible] the veteran Mr. Ryan's excellent technique in playing that trying and difficult instrument, the clarinette, and doubtless he has few rivals in that specialty.

It was to be regretted that Miss Ryan's charming voice was so impaired by the cold from which she suffered that the Faust aria was manifestly a difficult task for her, though the confidence and vigor with which she sang attested her good training and diligent study. Her second number "The Proposal," by Strelezky, was rendered in the same good style.

Altogether the concert was a notable one and to be recalled with lasting pleasure and satisfaction.

The "Little Tycoon," Spenser's popular comic opera success under the personal direction of the author will be the attraction at the opera house Monday evening. An exchange says: "There is an indescribable something about Willard Spenser's 'Little Tycoon' that always pleases, and last night's performance was no exception. The large audience listened with interest to the bright, spicy music, and gazed at the rich Japanese costumes and the beautiful stage setting with wonder and amazement. Miss Lloyd as Violet was captivating, her singing and acting of the part being far the best yet seen here. Miss Arnold as Miss Hurricane, the "fair, fat and forty" chaperon of the tender-hearted girls, was quite clever, whilst Mr. Alaric Hilby as Alvin Barry displayed a good tenor voice and ease of acting. In the principal role of General Knickerbocker, Mr. R. E. Graham was immense and in his topical song 'Now That's What I Think, Don't You?' was forced to respond to many encores. The rest of the cast were all good, not omitting the eccentric Teddy of Mr. Joseph Mealy and the rich voice of Mr. Lloyd Wilson. And now a word for the chorus and orchestra. The former is beautifully drilled, sings with much vim, and goes through the frequent and old manuals with plenty of grace and merit. The latter, under the able direction of Mr. Charles E. Borgman, consisted of fifteen pieces, and was most efficient."

He suggested that if there were those to whom the courtesy of the society had been extended who could not respect the rights of others, they must be notified that they could not, and must not be allowed in the building. A very strong feeling is expressed in regard to the matter and any who cannot respect the purposes of the society are not wanted at any of its meetings.

The annual ball of the Hook and Ladder company, given at Weber hall last night was a great success. Fully one hundred couples were in attendance. The members of the company had made every preparation for the event and if there were any present who did not enjoy themselves it was not through lack of attention from them. Metz' orchestra of six pieces furnished excellent music. Back of the stage on which they sat the room had been handsomely decorated with flags, ladders draped with bunting, and appropriate ... The programme consisted of twenty numbers, nicely arranged, and the festivities continued until 2 o'clock this morning. The subscription paper for Colorado college's new "dormitory" is now being pushed by the trustees. Nothing is more necessary just at this time to the large success of our college than this building. Students are constantly turned away for lack of it, and it is absolutely essential that this club house be erected by the friends of the institution here to command the gifts that will certainly come as the college enters into its larger future. The burden of putting up this building will not be great if everyone does all he can, and all recognize that they cannot afford not to have the college a success. There is not a store, a hotel, a livery stable, a physician, a real estate dealer, a builder, or in fact anyone who has any interest in the prosperity of our city that ought not to have a personal interest in the development of the college. It ought not to be a question at this time of how little may one give, but how much can one possibly put into it. No better object ever came before our citizens, and none that ought to command a more general respect and a more hearty response. And there has never been a time when it would pay as well as now to put money into the college. The institution has no property that it can convert into funds for this purpose, and must depend upon the generosity of its friends in this matter.

COLORADO CITY.

While the marked growth and prosperity of Denver, Colorado Springs, Pueblo and Trinidad are attracting the attention of capitalists looking for investments, our nearest neighbor, Colorado City, is quietly but surely emerging from the condition of an unimportant village into the position of a populous, thriving town built up almost wholly from its own natural resources that have lain dormant from the beginning, patiently awaiting the time when the general growth of the country should demand their fullest development. But few other localities in the west can compare favorably with that point in advantages that insure a healthy and enduring prosperity to any town possessing them.

The development of its vast and inexhaustible quarries of red and white sandstone is yet in its infancy, although thousands of dollars have already been invested in machinery, and a large and constantly increased force of workmen is actively employed.

To even supply the present demand for the rock will necessitate extensive additions to the machinery and force now employed. It may be stated here as an instance of the growing popularity of the red sandstone for building purposes, that heretofore large quantities have been shipped from Minnesota to the principal cities of Texas and other southern states to be used in the construction of the costliest buildings.

The erection of the glass works now in construction there is due to the fact that sandstone suitable for the manufacture of glass, and not excelled by any yet found in the United States, is obtainable there in the greatest abundance almost within the present limits of the town. It is the intention of the company erecting the works to devote the first plant to the manufacture of bottles and the smaller articles of glassware.

The Manitou Mineral Water company alone will use not less than 1,500,000 bottles the coming season; and large orders for bottles and other forms of glassware have been promised from Denver and other western cities. On the completion of this plant, the company propose to erect another one on the same ground for the manufacture of window glass, which probably will develop into the largest and most important one of the two. This industry will bring to Colorado City a large force of skilled workmen receiving the highest wages, and indirectly furnish employment for many others.

The manufacture of cement from the raw material that is to be found in unlimited quantities directly west of the town, is already large. The cement now stands tests equal to the famous English Portland. The demand is already beyond the capacity of the works.

The demand for the gypsum, fire clay and lime, all of the best quality, near the town, is also constantly increasing, and the force engaged in manufacturing these important articles of commerce, and in quarrying the raw material must soon be largely increased.

For transportation of the products of Colorado City to their respective markets, six railroads at present have either their own tracks or the right of trackage to that point, and the material for shipment can be loaded on their cars and delivered at all the principal cities of the west and southwest without breaking of bulk.

In addition to the advantages already enumerated, the shops of the Midland railroad are located in Colorado City, and with the extension of that road into Utah, their capacity must be largely increased; and the employes of the road that will live there will prove a large and profitable element in the growth of the town.

The advantages that are to make it an important and wealthy town are of a nature that does not admit of their being … from it. The place has a railroad centre in common with this city. The raw materials are there, and from no other point can they be manufactured and shipped so advantageously, and the demand for the manufactured articles is certain to largely increase with each succeeding year.

The prosperity of Colorado City will be the prosperity of Colorado Springs, and in no possible way can their interests conflict. Already are the two towns rapidly approaching each other, and but a few months more can elapse before they will virtually become one city with interests in every way mutual and identical.

Fiftieth Congress.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, February 22.—The … appropriation bill was reported … committee and placed on the calendar.

Hoar moved to take up the election outrages. The motion was agreed to—yeas 29, nays 26—a party vote.

The house amendments to the senate bill for a pension to the widow of General Sheridan were not concurred in and a conference was asked.

The senate then proceeded to the consideration of the resolution reported by Evarts from the committee on privileges and elections for a revision of the existing laws regulating the election of members of congress.

Reagan addressed the senate in opposition to the resolution, which he declared to be for the purpose of carrying on a crusade against the southern states. He would vote against the resolution because it was not warranted by testimony and because the senate had no rightful jurisdiction over the question and because the proposed proceeding would be a denial of the right of local self government. If the federal system were once broken down and the capacity of the people of the several states for self government were denied, then the union was destroyed and the liberties of the country sacrificed.

At the close of Reagan's speech Hoar moved that the resolution be laid aside and his resolution instructing the committee on privileges and elections to investigate the outrages in certain states be taken up.

Several roll calls followed on Hoar's motion, on motions to adjourn and to go into executive session, and finally without action the senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

As the clerk finished reading yesterday's journal the rival chairmen of the committees on ways and means and appropriations, were on the floor claiming recognition.

The speaker recognized Mills who called up the resolution touching the constitutional right of the senate to amend the Mills bill by means of a substitute dealing with the entire subject of taxation.

Randall stating that he had reports to make from the committee on rules raised the question of consideration.

The house decided by a vote of 88 to 143 not to consider Mills' resolution. The following democrats voted in the negative: Bliss, Blyce, Candler, Chapman, Cheatham, Cowles, Crain, Cummings, Dibble, Greenman, Hall, Henderson of North Carolina, Latham, Lynch, Merriman, O'Ferrall, Outhwaite, Pennington, Randall, Rowland, Simmons, Spinola, Stewart of Georgia, Vance, Washington and Wise.

Bland, of Missouri, also voted in the negative, but did so only for the purpose of moving a reconsideration. The motion to that effect made by him was promptly met by Randall with a motion to table.

The motion to reconsider was tabled—yeas 116, nays 33.

The committee on rules then reported a resolution for beginning business in the house at 10 o'clock hereafter, the first hour to be devoted to general business. The resolution was passed.

The committee on rules reported a resolution for the immediate consideration of the senate bill granting a pension to Mrs. General Sheridan. Breckinridge of Kentucky raised the question of consideration and on division Chandler of Indiana raised a point of no quorum.

After an amendment was agreed to fixing the rate of the pension at $2500 per annum the bill passed.

The committee on rules reported a resolution for the immediate consideration of the senate bill for the retirement of Wm. L. Rosecrans with the rank of brigadier general. The resolution was adopted and the bill was taken up.

Spinola of New York, desired to offer an amendment authorizing the president to appoint and retire J. C. Fremont as a brigadier general, but under the terms of the resolution the previous question was ordered on the bill and the amendment could not be received.

Randall from the committee on rules reported a resolution providing for the consideration of the Cowles bill on Monday next and upon his suggestion it was laid upon the table temporarily though losing none of its privileges.

Matson of Indiana, desired to offer an amendment fixing the date for the consideration of a bill repealing the act placing a limitation upon the payment of arrearages in pensions.

It was read for information as the speaker stated though Reed sarcastically inquired whether it was for information or misinformation, and Henderson of Iowa expressed a wish that it could be read for business at once.

The deficiency appropriation bill was then considered and without any conclusion being reached the house took a recess until evening, the session then to be for the consideration of private pension bills.
